Driver, a skipper halling from Salem, Mass., and captain of the brig Charles Doggett. Just before leaving Salem for the Southern Pacific ocean, a young man presented Captain Driver with a large and beautifully made American flag. When it was sent aloft the captain christened it "Old Glory." After retiring from active life, Captain Driver settled in Nashville, Tenn., in 1837, and the flag that had accompanied him to the Pacific was displayed from the window of his home. At the beginning of the Civil war it was fired upon. Then it was kept out of sight until February 27, 1862, when General Nelson appeared at Nashville with a division of the 1862, when General Nelson appeared at Nashville with a division of the Union army, Captain Driver presented the flag tod the general to be hoisted on the capitol.
